

Tana,

In light of recent decisions regarding EOL procedures, your assistance in answering the following questions is requested. Since the new products are already being traded, I would appreciate your answers at your earliest convenience.

Thank You,
Anthony

Subject: EOL -- New Financial Product Types

Should EOL copy existing Financial Master contracts into the new financial product categories?

Where a previous contract restriction exists, should EOL copy existing Financial Master contracts into those previously restricted financial categories or leave the category blank without a Financial Master?
