

Fine with me. I will have to leave at 6 pm Houston. Brent Hendry (X37124) will be available tomorrow if any issues arise. Of course, Tana will be here as well. SS

With so much paper distributed last night, is it prudent to have a call whenever possible this morning with the three banks and all of the internal people on the line to sign off on the documentation and develop a plan for obtaining execution of all the paper? I would think we need to have everything signed today in order to initiate the wire transfers tomorrow, which means we are basically out of time on negotiating the paper.

Let me know what you think.
