

Dear Gretchen:

Wow! You are thinking ahead! What is a Leap Pad? Is it something computer related? I have never heard of it.

On our end, we have planned a trip to DC to visit Madison in August -- nice and hot by then. We just got word that we have tix to the Orioles game while we are there, so that is good. We got new furniture in the living room -- a chocolate brown suede/leather sofa and chair/ottoman. It amplified the need for bright art in that room -- to the galleries and starving artists sales we go!

Stay cool -- Michelle

Hi!? The heat has gotten to us!? We are thinking Christmas.? We would like to give C a Leap Pad if he doesn't have one and you and T think it would be appropriate.? The item is for ages 4 and up but we do not think C is too young for it and hopefully it will get him to read more.? Nothing exciting happening here.? Just waiting, waiting for furniture, materials, etc.? Takes forever as you well know.? What's happening your end?? G?
